Note

Martin Luther University College (Luther) in Waterloo, Ontario is an institution of the Eastern Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada. It offers undergraduate, masters and PhD programs, and also operates a number of centres of study and practice. Luther is federated with, and is the founding institution of, Wilfrid Laurier University.

Luther was founded in 1910 as the Evangelical Lutheran Seminary of Canada, the first Lutheran seminary in Canada. It was established by the General Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in North America to form pastors for Lutheran congregations in Canada. In 1911, the Seminary opened in Waterloo, Ontario with a class of four students.

As the Seminary grew it expanded into new teaching areas. From 1914-1929 it operated Waterloo College School, an all-boys high school offering pre-theological education leading to senior matriculation. In 1924, the focus shifted to higher education when the seminary established Waterloo College of Arts, a non-theological honours degree program affiliated with the University of Western Ontario. Waterloo College Associate Faculties, offering science and engineering programs, was launched in 1957.

In 1959, the seminary received a revised charter from the province of Ontario. Waterloo College Associate Faculties became the University of Waterloo. The charter also established Waterloo Lutheran University, a degree granting university composed of two units – Waterloo University College (formerly Waterloo College) and Waterloo Lutheran Seminary (formerly the Evangelical Lutheran Seminary of Canada).

Waterloo Lutheran University became a public institution in 1973, and was renamed Wilfrid Laurier University. Waterloo Lutheran Seminary remained a federated college of the university.

In 2018 the school began operating as Martin Luther University College, although the institution's legal name remains Waterloo Lutheran Seminary. At the same time, the Luther building, a Karl Krushen design constructed in 1963, underwent major renovations.

Presidents and Executive Heads of the seminary have included:

Ottomar Lincke (Acting President) 1911–1914

Preston Laury (President) 1914–1918

C. H. Little (Acting President) 1918–1920; 1929–1931; 1942–1944

Series 32: Photographs - President portraits

Scope and content:

The series contains framed portraits of Waterloo Lutheran Seminary presidents and executive heads. Each portrait is housed in a dark wood frame (76 cm x 63 cm) with a brass name plate. The portraits were displayed on the wall of the seminary from 1969 until 2015.

The Seminary Presidents' Portraits project was developed by the Women's Auxiliary of Waterloo Lutheran Seminary, to ensure that a photograph of every president was displayed in the Seminary building. Donors were enlisted to cover the costs of each portrait. Local photographer Charles Belair was hired to take new portraits and create reproductions of existing photographs. Richard Crossman's portrait was added in 1985.
